Anti-Human Trafficking

Guide
Human Trafficking is the third largest criminal enterprise in the world after arms trafficking and drugs, which generates billions of dollars in profits.
The International and Arab Framework on Anti-Human Trafficking.
The protocol to prevent, suppress and punish trafficking in persons, especially Women and Children (also referred to as the Trafficking Protocol or UN TIP Protocol) is a protocol to the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime, and it’s adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in 2000 and entered into force on December 25, 2003. And ratified by 178 parties in February.

In Article 3 of the protocol to prevent, suppress and punish trafficking in persons, especially Women and Children, supplementing the United Nations convention against transnational organized crime, human trafficking is defined as:

(a) "Trafficking in persons" shall mean the recruitment, transportation, transfer, harboring or receipt of persons, by means of the threat or use of force or other forms of coercion, of abduction, of fraud, of deception, of the abuse of power or of a position of vulnerability or of the giving or receiving of payments or benefits to achieve the consent of a person having control over another person, for the purpose of exploitation. Exploitation shall include, at a minimum, the exploitation of the prostitution of others or other forms of sexual exploitation, forced labor or services, slavery or practices similar to slavery, servitude or the removal of organs;

(b) The consent of a victim of trafficking in persons to the intended exploitation set forth in subparagraph (a) of this article shall be irrelevant where any of the means set forth in subparagraph (a) have been used;

(c) The recruitment, transportation, transfer, harboring or receipt of a child for the purpose of exploitation shall be considered "trafficking in persons" even if this does not involve any of the means set forth in subparagraph (a) of this article;

(d) "Child" shall mean any person under 18 years of age.
